

WEBINAR

John A. Knauss Aquatic Policy Fellowship Program 101

Tuesday November 10th 2020 | 5:00 – 6:30 pm EST

Are you interested in a career in marine policy? Join us to learn about the Knauss Fellowship experience and a variety of careers fellows may enter into after the program. The Knauss fellowship provides a paid one-year opportunity for graduate students to work in the government on marine, aquatic, and coastal policy and related issues. This webinar will provide an overview of the program, career spotlights and a Q&A session with Knauss alumni, and networking opportunities with current and former fellows. No experience in policy or aquatic science necessary. Registration is limited, sign up today!

Meet the panelists:

Dr. Jeanette Davis
Ocean Science
Policy Advisor,
NOAA Fisheries

Julie Palakovich Carr
Maryland State
Delegate,
District 17

Helen Cheng
PhD student,
Northeastern Univ.

Dr. Gonzalo Cid
Int'l Activities
Coordinator,
NOAA National Ocean Service

Register today at forms.gle/kgYrLescxba6SS5S7

Contact leah.segui@noaa.gov for questions about the webinar
More information: seagrant.noaa.gov/Knauss-Fellowship-Program